Annual Family Update

Austin and I would like to introduce Willow Grace Krokos! Willow was born July 7th at a whopping 10 lbs, 21 3/4" by c-section. She needed oxygen for 2 hours after birth but is in excellent health now. (We thank God for our great Christian health care sharing with Samaritan Ministries.) My recovery has been amazing, especially being a 3rd c-section. She is welcomed by Asher(7), Uriah(5), Eden(3), and Malachi (15 mos.) who started walking two weeks before her arrival. It is a joy and a test of patience to see our children grow physically, socially, mentally and especially in their love for the Lord. One night they packed up and had their heart set on going to Africa to go tell people about Jesus (Photo in 2nd row on left). We thought they were pretending but the night ended in giant crocodile tears because they could not really go. Another time while at the public pool, I overheard a conversation of the boys sharing the gospel with a little boy (second row picture on right).

Austin baptized Asher at church last fall, coached Uriah's soccer team this spring, and got the boys riding bikes without training wheels this summer.

Because of gracious scholarships, Asher is going into second grade, Uriah will be in Kindergarden and Eden will be in preschool this fall at Highlands Classical Academy, a start-up Christian school near our home.
